February Submissions

1: Auða Urso - Resub Device

OSCAR finds the name on the Caid Lol of November 30, 2024 as submitted.

Vert, a winged hare courant argent.

New submission: Vert, a winged hare courant argent.

Old Item: Argent, an orle of eight mascles interlaced vert.

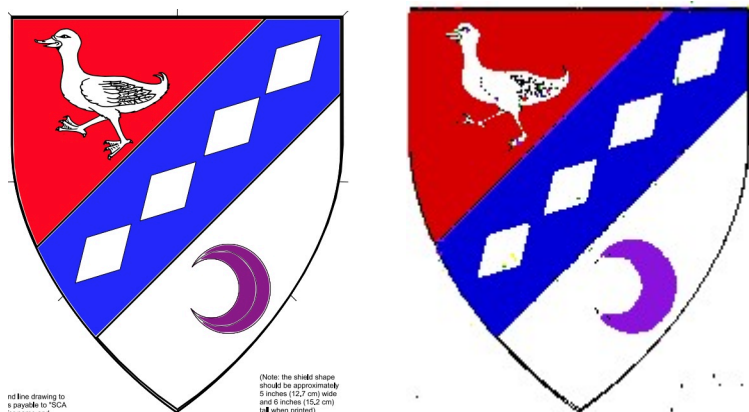

The previous submission (Argent, an orle of eight mascles interlaced vert) was returned for conflict on the LoAR of February 2025 <https://heraldry.sca.org/loar/2025/02/25-02lar.html>. Previous submission was returned for: This device is returned for presuming upon the important non-SCA flag of Morocco, Gules, a mullet voided and interlaced vert. There is a DC for changing the field tincture, but, as we grant no difference for the number of points on mullets, there is no DC between a mullet voided and interlaced and a mullet of eight interlocking mascles.

This device is also returned for conflict with the device of Otto Bötticher von Spreebrucke, Argent, seven swords, blades fretted to form a mullet of seven points, vert. As the motif on Otto's device is nearly indistinguishable from a mullet of seven points voided and interlaced, there is no heraldic difference between these two pieces of armory.

There is a step from core practice for the use of a mullet of eight interlocking mascles.

NO CONFLICT FOUND. APPROVED AND FORWARDED.

COMMENTARY

NAME (from Jeanne Marie)

Catarina is found in DMNES (s.n. Katherine, <https://dmnes.org/name/Katherine>) as a Latin (nominative) feminine name in Italy dated to 1369 and 1521.

Conti is found as a patronymic in "Italian Names from Florence, 1427" by Ferrante LaVolpe (<https://www.s-gabriel.org/names/ferrante/catasto/>).

Nero is also found as a patronymic in Ferrante's article.

SENA Appendix A supports both marked and unmarked patronymics and generational patronymics. This would allow the submitter to have Catarina Conti Nero or Catarina Conti di Nero, with the first patronymic unmarked and the second marked.

If the submitter is interested in a name from 1427 Florence, the Catasto has Caterina. That would give Caterina Conti Nero or Caterina Conti di Nero. The docs for this version of the given name:

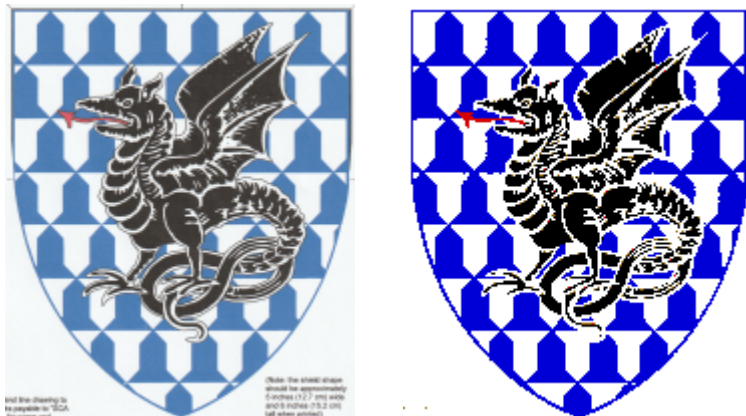

Caterina is found as a given name in the Online Catasto of 1427, ed. David Herlihy, et al, <https://cds.library.brown.edu/projects/catasto/overview.html>.

Azure, three ducks in pall inverted conjoined by their feet Or

Originally returned in September 25 Bandy engrailed azure and vert, three ducks conjoined by their feet in pall inverted Or and was returned for overlap in the feet and difficulty in seeing the line of division.

The field division issue is moot with this design, and the feet are conjoined by the claws and not overlapped.
