From Laurel: The June 2024 LoAR has been released. Of particular note:

Lillia Crampette provided extensive research on the combination of Scandinavian names with names in the English/Welsh and Gaelic regional naming groups. This research was presented in Palimpsest's March 24th Rules Letters. Based on this research, and the comments provided, SENA Appendix C is updated to allow names from the Scandinavian regional group with those from the English/Welsh and Gaelic regional groups through the end of period (1100-1600). This update will be available at <https://heraldry.sca.org/sena.html#AppendixC> within a few days.

We wish to thank both Lillia for sharing her research and those who provided additional information in commentary.

From Decrescent:

- The consultation table will be open on Friday and Saturday of GWW, with Sunday available by appointment. If you have questions about working the consultation table, Alienor Strongbow de Clare and Eridana Ambre Dragotta are in charge of consultation at GWW.
- If you would like to help out (or shadow & learn more consultation processes), sign up using iVolunteer. There are several spaces open for consultation heralds. It would be most appreciated if senior heralds also volunteer so that we have a balance of new and more experienced heralds doing consultation. If you have questions or concerns about using iVolunteer, please talk to me as Herald Liaison.

- Rycharde the Bowemon is organizing morning cry, as he has been doing for these past several years. We can always use more folks to do morning cry. Again, you can sign up for this using iVolunteer for most of the days of war.
- There will be other opportunities for heralds to help out throughout the war, including as processional heralds, or supporting the Valkyrie Rose Tourney on Sunday. Please keep an eye on the CoH FB group for updates.
- We are working to institute PayPal at the heraldic consultation table. Several heralds (thank you, Ariana verch Gwenllian, Alienor Strongbow de Clare & Jamal Damien Marcus) have been trained in PayPal procedures, and the College will be purchasing a PayPal machine. It is our hope that this will make consultation much easier for those at the table on Friday and Saturday of GWW.

Marcus Brutus Germanicus - New Name Change

Old Item: Brut von Köln, to be retained as an alternate name.

Marcus is a Roman praenomen found on A Simple Guide to Imperial Roman Names Ursula Georges <https://yarntheory.net/ursulageorges/names/roman.html#praenomen>

Brutus is listed as a Roman cognomen found on <https://dmnes.org/name/Brutus>

Brutus is listed as a nomen in Onomasticon Propriorum Nominum

By Konrad Gesner 1553. I am unsure if this is acceptable as documentation for Brutus as a nomen so assistance is requested if this is not sufficient.

Germanicus is a Roman cognomen, per the precedent set in the registration of Gaius Crassius Germanicus (Caid, Dec 2013, copied from Tiberius Valerius Germanicus

<https://oscar.sca.org/index.php?action=145&id=93727>

<http://heraldry.sca.org/loar/2013/12/13-12lar.html#86>) which states "Submitted as Gaius Germanicus Crassus, the name is not correctly constructed. Unfortunately, the source used to document this name (Legion XXIV, "Roman Names", <http://www.legionxxiv.org/nomens/>) incorrectly states that the element Germanicus is a nomen rather than a cognomen. As such, the submitted name contained a praenomen and two cognomina. Eastern Crown documented a similar nomen, Crassius, from a bronze seal found at Pompeii. The submitter subsequently authorized a change to Gaius Crassius Germanicus. This change has been made in order to register the name."

When it comes to names, Lewis & Short very definitely indicates what words are names, and whether they are praenomina, nomina, or cognomina. The Admin Handbook's dismissal of dictionaries is too broad, and does not apply to L&S.
